Marlene's Story

My mum was diagnosed with Stage 4 Bowel Cancer in 2011. Her health deteriorated quickly and she passed away 10 months later in August 2012.

Being the strong lady she was, she put on a brave face each day. She seldom complained despite the pain she was in.

Sadly, my connection with cancer does not stop there. One of my mum's sisters lost her battle with breast cancer. I have friends and colleagues who have been directly affected or are currently living with cancer.

I will be shaving my head to raise funds to assist with support and further research for cancer. If eligible, my hair will be donated so that it can be made into a wig for patients undergoing therapy

I believe that together we can beat cancer. I hope you will support me by donating and attend our 1 year birthday celebration and cheer me on as I have my head shaved for this cause.
